

The Comprehensive Planner: Taking a Systems Perspective

Christopher Parker, AICP, City of Dover, NH
Steve Whitman, AICP, Resilience Planning and Design LLC

Today:

- Background
- Defining a problem
- How to take a “systems perspective”
- Case study examples
- Many ways forward
- Discussion

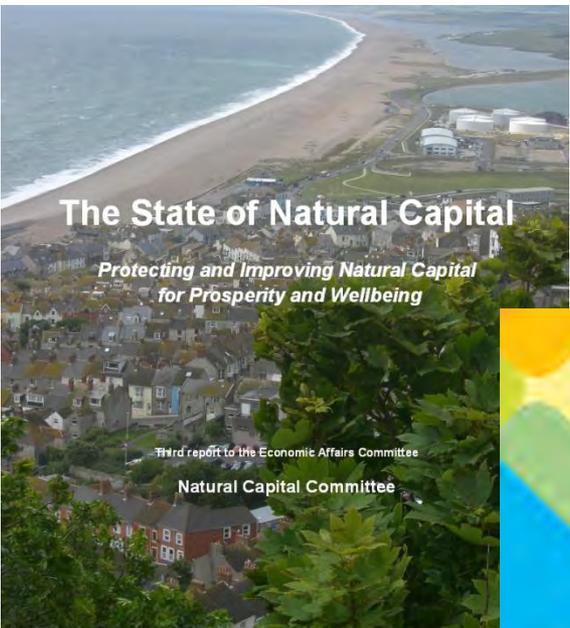

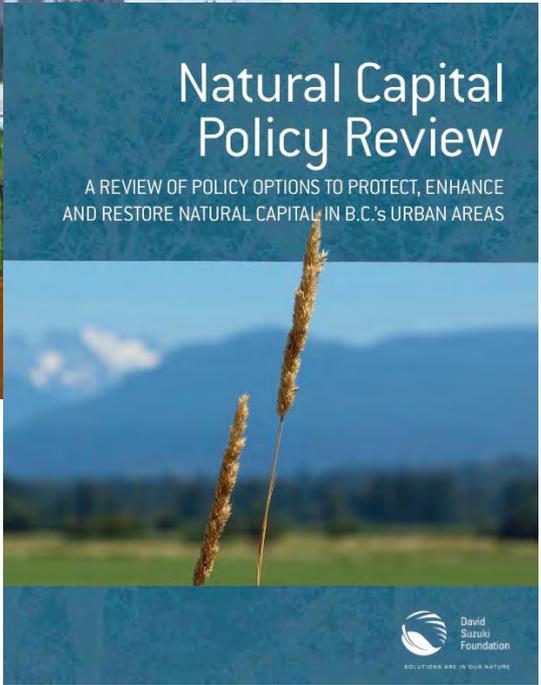

Ecosystem Services

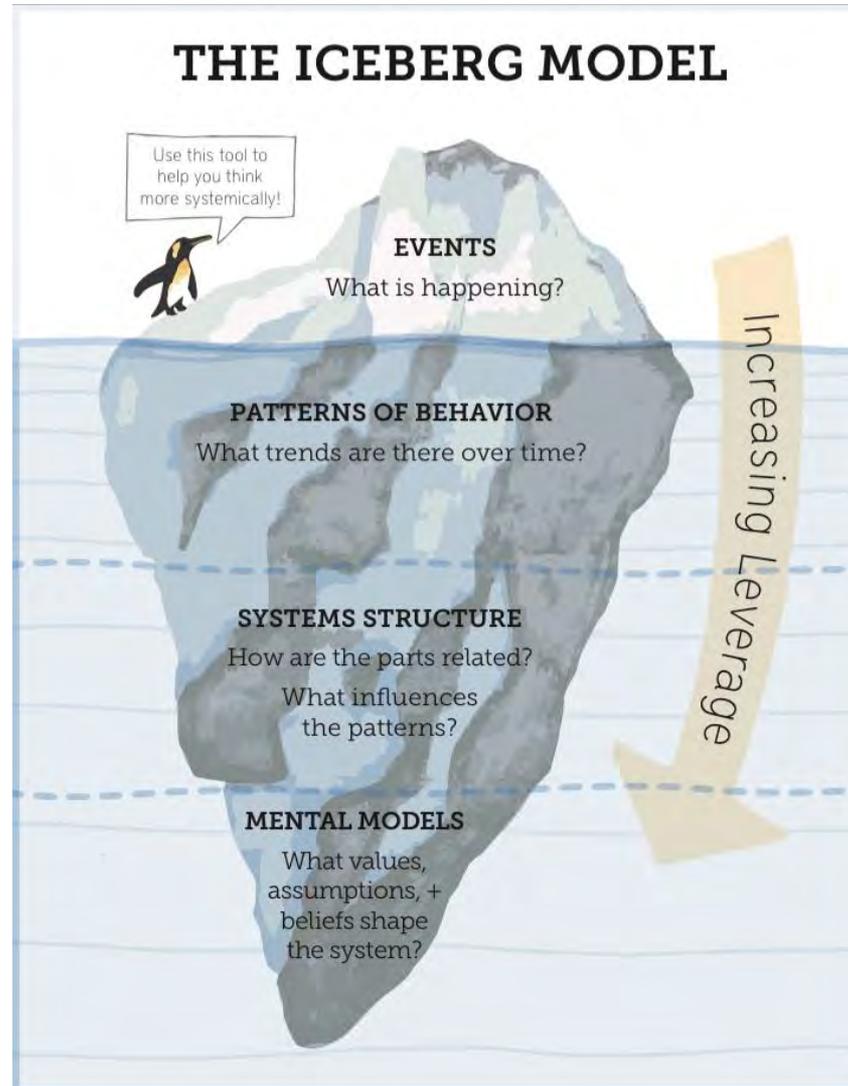

Source: Millennium Ecosystem Assessment, 2005

Natural Capital

Systems Thinking

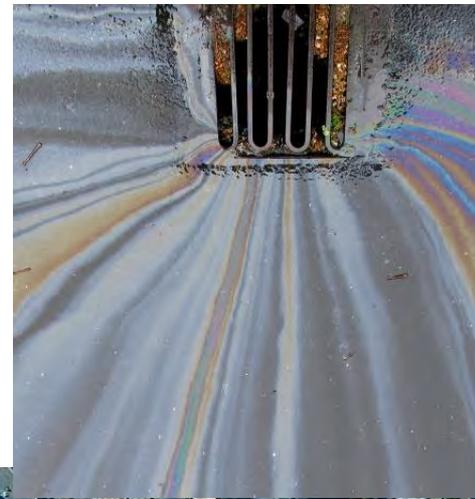

Defining a Problem

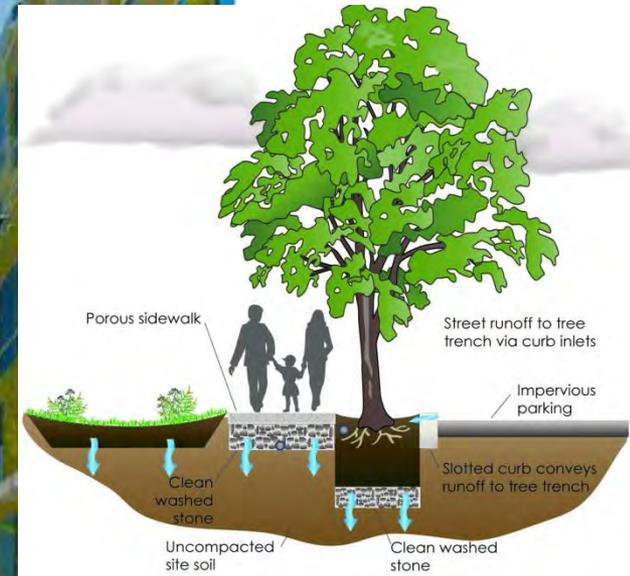

Defining a Problem

Defining a Problem

The Problem is the Solution

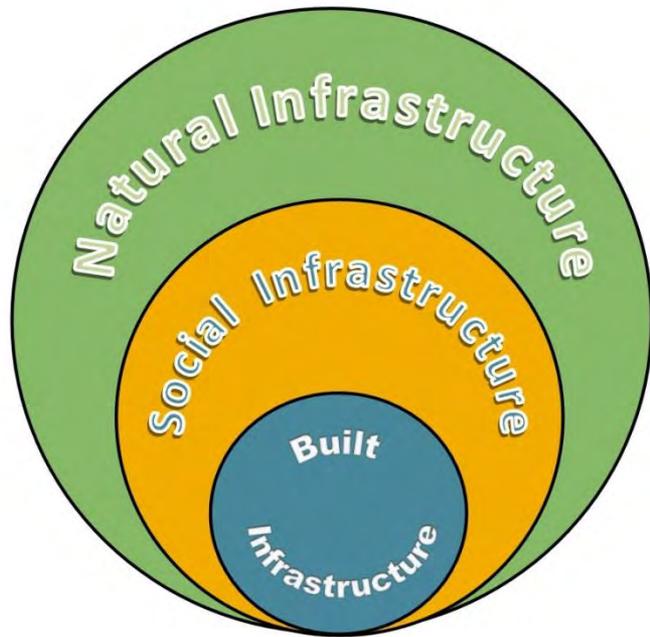

Beyond Voluntary Actions

Looking Forward

- What should we know about your topic?
- What issues do you think should be considered as MMRG looks to the future of conservation in the region?
- What possibilities to conserve additional land connectivity w/ to conserve nproving + region?

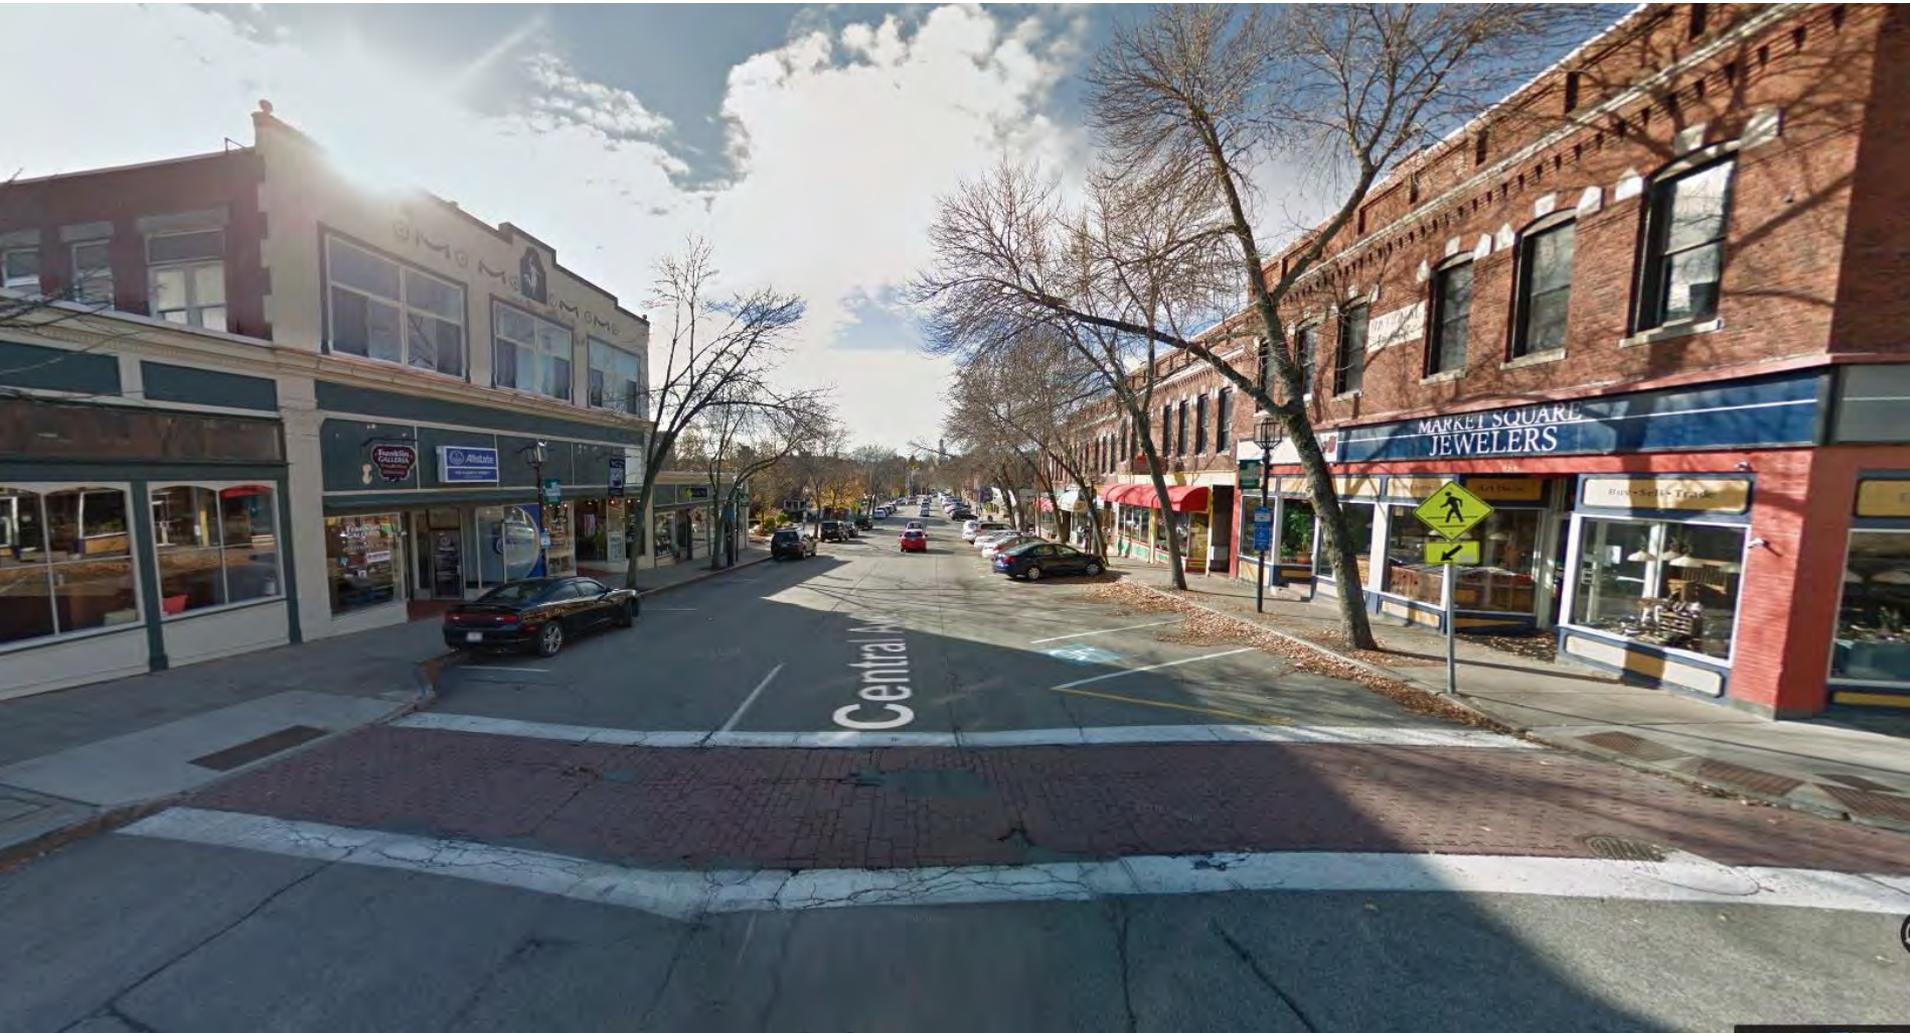

Beyond Voluntary Actions

Abundance Perspective

Dover, New Hampshire

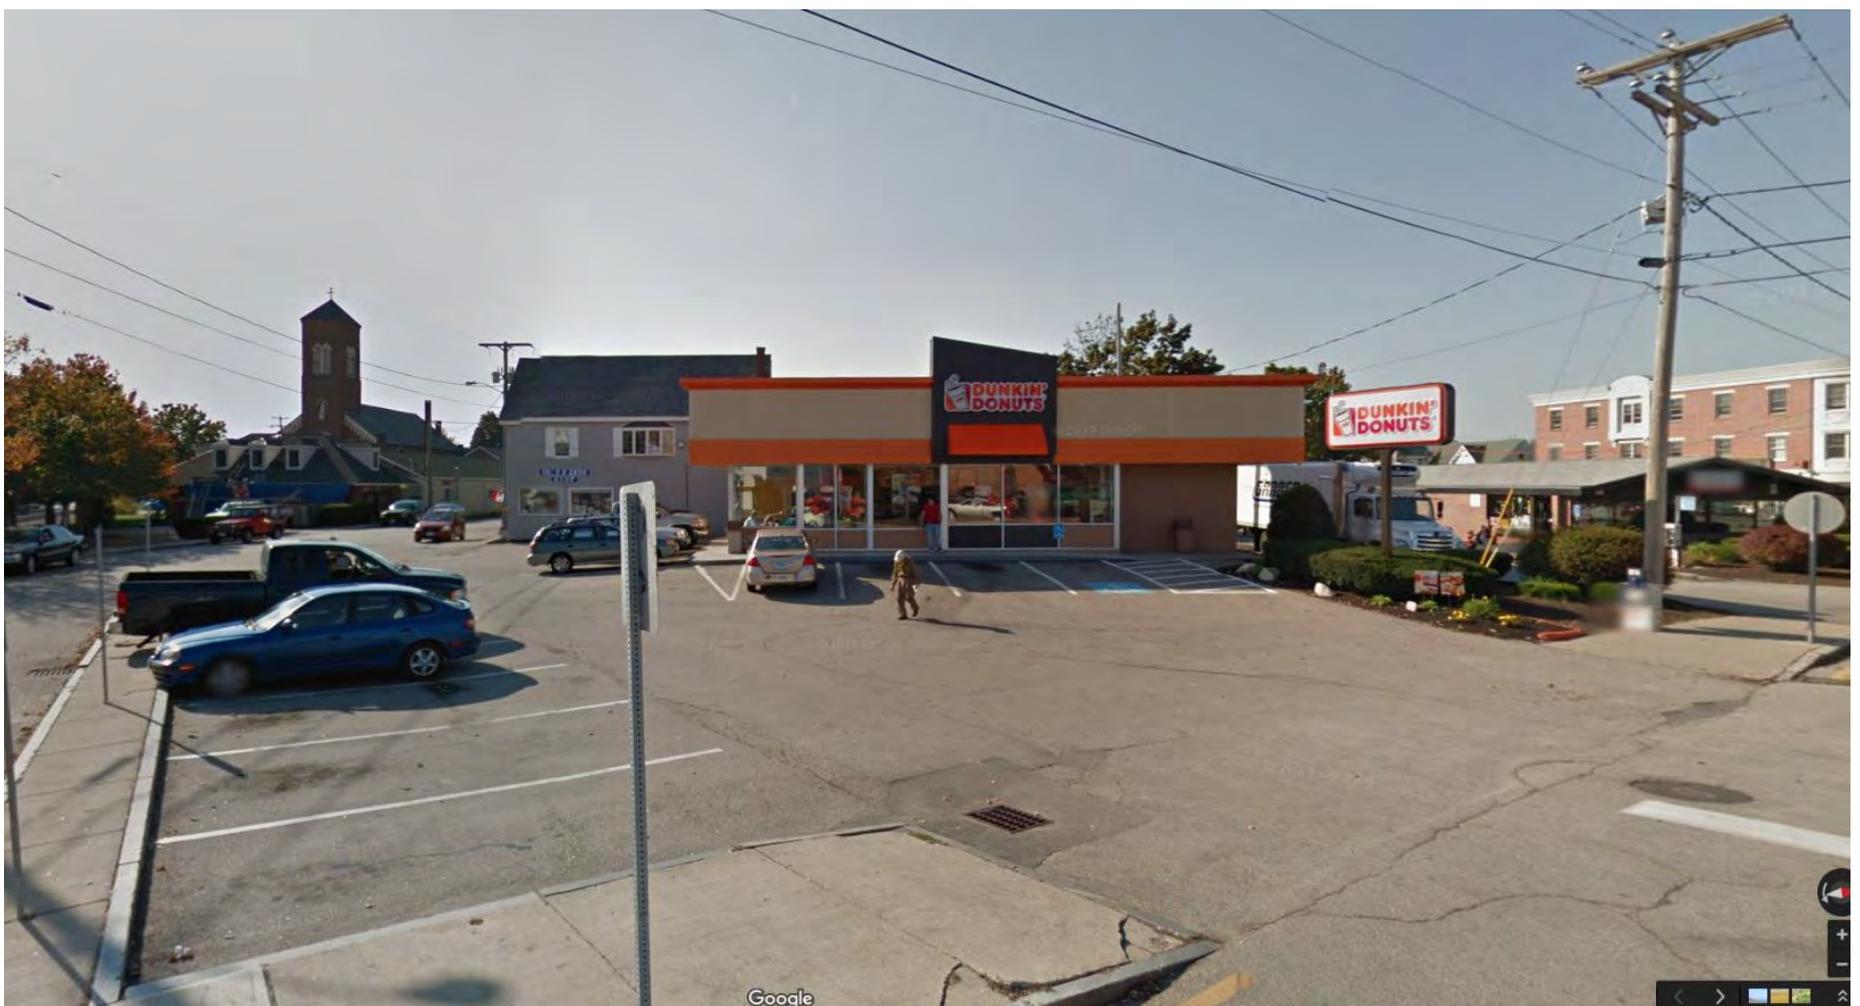

Dover, New Hampshire

Dover, New Hampshire

Dover, New Hampshire

Dover, New Hampshire

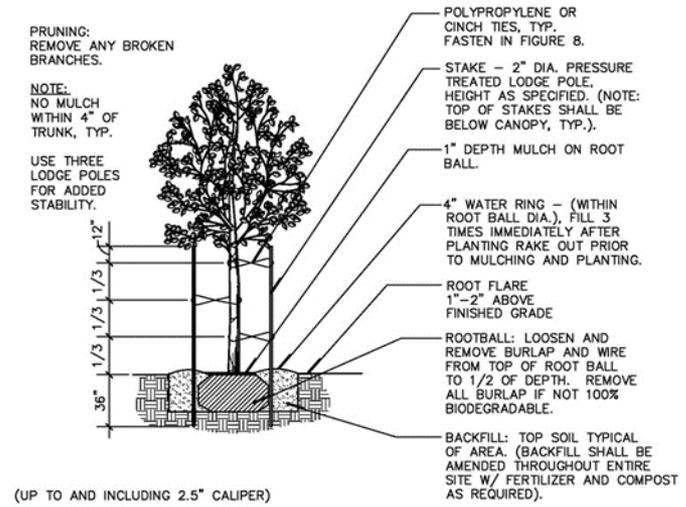

5 Northeast View
PP130173

Dover, New Hampshire

Dover, New Hampshire

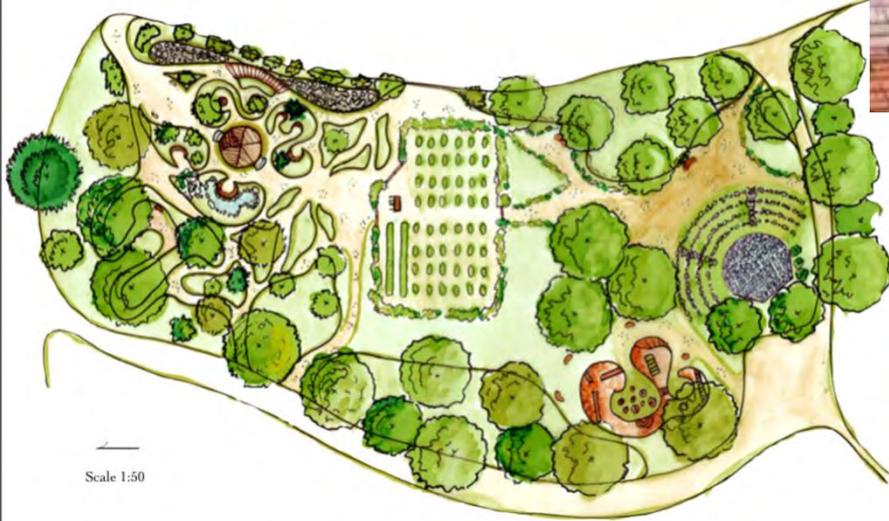

Dover, New Hampshire

Franklin, New Hampshire

Franklin, New Hampshire

SOPHIE VIANDIER SGVIANDIER@GMAIL.COM (603)454-8696 	River Street Community Garden 86 River St. Franklin, NH 03235	PHASE: PROPOSAL	DATE: 03-20-2016	A3
---	---	----------------------------	-----------------------------	-----------

Franklin, New Hampshire

Franklin, New Hampshire

Many Ways Forward

Contact us!

Christopher Parker, AICP

City of Dover, NH

C.Parker@dover.nh.gov

Steve Whitman, AICP

Resilience Planning & Design

Steve@resilienceplanning.net

